Indian Rupee Symbol

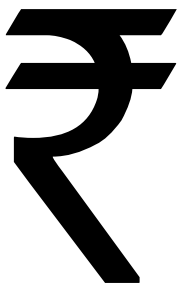

Indian economy has been expanding at a sustained high rate of growth. Its economy is steadily integrating with the global economy and India has emerged as major investment destination worldwide. In view of this fact Government of India decided to have a distinct and unique symbol for Indian Rupee like major other currencies such as US Dollar or British Pound Sterling.

After following a defined process, Government of India selected the design of Mr. D. Udaya Kumar as the "Symbol for Indian Rupee". Cabinet approved the symbol on July 15th, 2010.

The symbol is designed using Devanagari Letter Ra and Roman Letter R, which represent the Indian economy nationally and internationally. The two horizontal lines with a white space in between represent the Indian national flag. The two horizontal lines also represent mathematical symbol "equal to" which is used for monetary transactions.

It is very urgent that the proposed symbol be encoded in the Unicode Standard so that software vendors can provide support for it and it can be easily displayed/ printed in the electronic and print media.

Proposed Symbol: U + 20Bx - INDIAN RUPEE SYMBOL

Rupee becomes only 5th currency to get a symbol Design By IIT Grad Cleared By Cabinet

FINES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: In keeping with India's growing economic might and its status as a major investment destination, the hitherto humble rupee is all set to get a distinct identity in the form of a new symbol.

The Union Cabinet on Thursday gave its approval to the symbol which combines the Indian letter 'R' with the Devanagari '₹'.

The symbol will cater to the rupee and the company of four 'elite' currencies which have similarly distinct identities — US dollar, euro, yen and British pound.

The symbol has been designed by D Udayan Kumar, an IIT Bombay post-graduate, who has joined as a consultant at IIT Ghaziabad.

Kumar will receive a prize money of Rs 2.5 lakh for his efforts. The symbol will standardize the expression for the Indian rupee in different languages, both within and outside the country.

It would distinguish the rupee from those countries whose currencies are also designated as rupee or rupiah, such as Pakistan, Nepal, Sri Lanka and Indonesia," Lall said after the Cabinet meeting. The symbol, he added, would reflect the strength and robustness of the Indian economy.

Until now, the Indian currency was simply denoted by its or INR/INR. Its official symbol was chosen from a public competition that was held among resident Indian citizens for the outlet for a symbol which reflected and captured the Indian ethos and culture."

Over 3,000 entries were received. These were evaluated by a jury headed by the RBI deputy governor, which included experts from reputed art and design institutes.

"The entries were evaluated in such a manner that the identity of the competitors was not revealed to the jury members. The jury selected five final entries and also gave its evaluation of those five entries to the government to take a final decision," said Lall.

Diesel to cost ₹2.50 less Giving In To Dealers, Delhi Rolls Back VAT Hike

FINES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Giving in to the demand of petrol and diesel dealers in the capital, Delhi government on Friday decided to roll back the Value Added Tax (VAT) on diesel from 20% to 12.50% per litre. This was decided at a cabinet meeting held at chief minister Sheila Dikshit's residence. The rollback will come into effect on July 20.

Delhi government had been under fire from the dealers since it hiked the VAT on diesel from 12.5% to 20% in its budget for 2010-11. The CM had then said this would prevent pollution besides boosting revenue. But on Friday, after a lively cabinet meeting where Finance minister A K Walia was backing, she reversed the decision.

A statement from the CM's office said it was meant as a relief to the users. "The city government has decided to bring down the rate of VAT on diesel. It will go a long way in curbing the inflationary trend," the statement said. "The price of diesel in Delhi is Rs 37.60 per litre. It will now be available for Rs 37.60 per litre. The burden on consumers has been reduced by Rs 2.50 per litre. The new rate will be applicable from July 20," the CM said.

The rate of diesel in Delhi was just Rs 35.71 per litre, including taxes, in April. It went up
